

Warebridge

Anne Steele, 1760

Amend. Jeremy Belknap, 1795

88. 88. (L. M.)

Transcribed from The Columbian Sacred Harmonist, 1808.

C Major

Oliver Shaw, 1808

Tr. 5 10

1. The prai - ses of my God and King, While I have life and breath to sing,
 2. No more in prin - ces will I trust; Vain man, thou art but air and dust!
 3. Hap - py the man whose hopes di - vine On na - ture's guar-dian God re - cline;

C.

T. tr 3

1. The prai - ses of my God and King, While I have life and breath to sing, Shall fill my heart, and tune my tongue, Till
 2. No more in prin - ces will I trust; Vain man, thou art but air and dust! With all thy pride, and all thy power, The
 3. Hap - py the man whose hopes di - vine On na - ture's guar-dian God re - cline; Who can with sa - cred trans-port say, This

B.

Tr. 15 tr 1. 20 2.

Shall fill my heart, and tune my tongue, Till heaven im - prove crea - ture of an bliss-ful song.
 With all thy pride, and all thy power, The help - less crea - ture of an hour.
 Who can with sa - cred trans-port say, This God is mine, my help, my stay.

C. tr

T. tr

heaven im - prove the bliss-ful song, Till heaven im - prove crea - ture of an bliss-ful song. Shall help - less crea - ture of an hour, The help - less crea - ture of an hour. With God is mine, my help, my stay, This God is mine, my help, my stay. Who

B.