William Shakespeare
(1564-1616)

The triumph of death

C. Holland

Soprano

Alto

Tenor

Bass

Piano

Heard the surly sul-len bell, the bell Give warning to the

Heard the sur-ly bell, P the sul-len bell Give warning to the

You shall hear the sur-ly P sul-len bell Give warning, warn-

James Gibb editions 1 The triumph of death - Holland world that I am fled From this vile world, in vil-est earth to world that I am fled From this vile world, in vil-est earth to that I am fled From this vile world, in earth to ing f that I am fled From this vile world, in vil-est earth to

P dwell; Nay, if you read this line, re-mem-ber not

P dwell; Nay, if you read this line, re-mem-ber not, re-mem-ber dwell, P in earth to dwell; Nay, if you sf read this line, re-mem-ber not, re-mem-ber

P dwell; Nay, if you sf read this line, re-mem-ber not The hand that writ it, for I love you so,
That not The hand that writ it, for I love you so, I love you so,
That

The hand that writ it, for I love you so, That I in

I in your sweet thoughts would be forgot.
If

I in your sweet thoughts would be for-go ted, If__ thinking your sweet thoughts would be for be, would be for got, If thinking thinking on me then should make you woe, _p_ should make you _pp_ woe.

Oh if, I say, you look upon this _f_ verse make you woe, _mf_ Oh if, I say, you look upon this _f_ verse _pp_ make you woe, _mf_ Oh if, I say, you look, you _f_ look upon this

James Gibb editions

4

The triumph of death - Holland
When I perhaps compounded am with clay,

When I perhaps compounded, compounded am with clay,

When I perhaps compounded, compounded am with clay, do verse

When I compounded am with clay, Do not so not so much as my poor name rehearse;

not so much as my poor name rehearse; But let your love e’en much as my poor name, my name rehearse, Let your love

James Gibb editions

5

The triumph of death - Holland with my life decay: Lest the wise world should look in- to your moan, mock you, mock you!

Lest the wise world should look into your moan, in- to your moan, And mock you, mock you!

Lest the wise world should look into your moan, And mock you, mock you!

And mock you, mock you!

The triumph of death - Holland
Should mock you with me after I am gone!

The world should mock you with me after I am gone!