1. What is our God, _____ or what _____ his name, Nor men can learn, nor angels teach;
2. The spacious worlds _____ of heaven - ly light, Compared with him, how short they fall!
3. He spoke the won - drous word, _____ and, lo! Cre - a - tion rose at his command:

He dwells con - ceal'd, He dwells conceal'd in radiant
They are too dark, They are too dark, and he too
Whirlwinds and seas, Whirlwinds and seas their limits

He dwells con - ceal'd in ra - diant
They are too dark, and he too
Whirlwinds and seas their li - mits

1. flame, Where neither eyes nor thoughts can reach, Where neither eyes nor thoughts can reach.
2. bright: No - thing are they, and God is all, No - thing are they, and God is all.
3. know, Bound in the hollow of his hand, Bound in the hol-low of his hand.

1. flame, Where neither eyes nor thoughts can reach, Where neither eyes nor thoughts can reach.
2. bright: No - thing are they, and God is all, No - thing are they, and God is all.
3. know, Bound in the hollow of his hand, Bound in the hol-low of his hand.

4. There rests the earth, there roll the spheres.
There nature leans, and feels her prop:
But his own self-sufficiency bears
The weight of his own glories up.

5. The tide of creatures ebbs and flows,
Measuring their changes by the moon :
No ebb his sea of glory knows;
His age is one eternal noon.

6. Then fly, my song, an endless round,
The lofty tune let Michael raise :
All nature dwell upon the sound,
But we can ne'er fulfill the praise.
