

For Thee, O God, our constant praise

Psalm 65

Trans. Nahum Tate (1652 - 1715)
and Nicholas Brady (1659 - 1726)

LANE

adapted by Lowell Mason (1792 - 1872)
from music of Franz Danzi (1763 - 1826)
Ed. Douglas J Walczak (ASCAP)

Larghetto

Soprano
Alto

1. For _____ Thee, O _____ God, our con - stant
2. Thou, _____ Who to _____ ev - 'ry hum - ble
3. Our _____ sins, though _____ num - ber - less, in
4. Blest _____ is the _____ man who, near Thee

4

praise In Zi - on waits, thy cho - sen
prayer Dost al - ways bend Thy list - 'ning vain To stop Thy flow - ing mer - cy placed, With - in Thy sa - cred dwell - ing

8

seat; our pro - mised al - tars there _____ we'll ear, To Thee shall all - man - kind _____ re - try; Whilst Thou o'er - look'st the guilt - y lives! 'Tis there a - bun - dant ly _____ we 12

raise, _____ And there _____ our zeal - ous vows com - plete.
pair, _____ And at _____ Thy gra - cious throne ap - pear.
stain, _____ And wash - est out _____ the crim - son _____ dye.
taste _____ The vast _____ de - lights _____ Thy tem - ple _____ gives.