Come, O peoples, come from afar, and marvel, O races.
Is there any nation so great that it has its gods so near to it as our God is near to us, whose true presence on his altar we continually contemplate through living faith:
Is there any nation so great?
O fate more blessed than all others,
O fate only of the faithful for whom breaking bread and sharing the cup is a help.
Therefore let us feast on the unleavened bread of truth and sincerity,
Let us feast, therefore, and become drunk with wine of eternal joy;
Is there any nation so great?
Come, O peoples, come.
