

Henry Alline, 1786
On the death of Christ

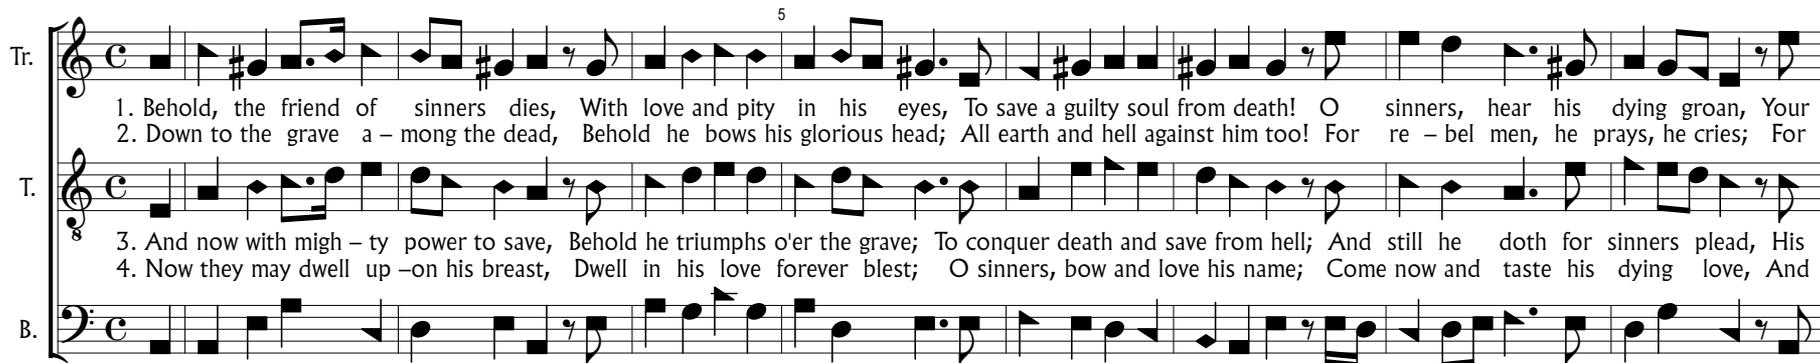

888. 888.

Western

Transcribed from Harmonia Americana, 1791.

A minor

Samuel Holyoke, 1791

Tr. 5

1. Behold, the friend of sinners dies, With love and pity in his eyes, To save a guilty soul from death! O sinners, hear his dying groan, Your
2. Down to the grave a - mong the dead, Behold he bows his glorious head; All earth and hell against him too! For re - bel men, he prays, he cries; For
T. 3. And now with migh - ty power to save, Behold he triumphs o'er the grave; To conquer death and save from hell; And still he doth for sinners plead, His
4. Now they may dwell up - on his breast, Dwell in his love forever blest; O sinners, bow and love his name; Come now and taste his dying love, And
B.

Tr. 10 Slower

1. load of sin he bears alone, And yields for you, And yields for you his life and breath.
2. rebel men he groans, and dies; All this for you, All this, O wretched souls, for you.
T. 3. Spi - rit with them intercede, En - treat - ing them, En - treat - ing them in heaven to dwell.
4. ev - er live in realms above, To love and praise, To love and praise the slaughtered Lamb.
B.

Edited by B. C. Johnston, 2020

1. Grace sixteenth-notes converted to normal sixteenth-notes in measure 13, Tenor.
2. Tempo marking at measure 13.