WHAT IS YOUR SUBSTANCE?
(from "Book of Sonnets" - for Leslie)

Wm. Shakespeare (Sonnet LIII)

Baritone Solo

What is your substance,
Whereof are

Sopranos Altos

Baritones

Piano

That millions of, millions of strange,

you made,
Gray: What Is Your Substance p. 2

shadows

On you tend?
cresc.

Since ev'ry one hath ev'ry one one shade. And you but one,

Can ev'ry shadow lend_

What is your substance whereof are you made, That millions of strange shadows on you	tend?

Since ev'-ry one		hath ev'-ry one.

one shade,
And you but one can ev'-ry sha dow tend?

Oo
De-scribe Adon-is, And the coun-ter-feit is poor-ly im-i-tat-ed af-ter
you;
On He-len's cheek, All art of beauty set,
On He-len's cheek, All art of beauty set, And
Gray: What Is Your Substance p. 6

And you in every blessed

other as your bounty doth appear;
And you in every blessed

cresc.

shape we know.
In all external grace you have

molto dim.

molto dim.

molto dim.

some part, But you like none, None you,

for constant Heart.

Verlassen des Doppelgängers