se -

In the midst of life we are in death; of whom may we seek for succour, but of thee, O Lord, who for our sins art justly displeased? O holy God, O holy and strong, O holy and merciful Saviour, deliver us not to bitter death. In you our fathers have trusted; they have trusted and you have delivered them. To You our fathers have cried out; they have cried out, and they have not been brought to ruin.
