Translation

Whether I am awake or whether I sleep, whether I eat or drink, I always seem to hear the sound of the trumpet and the voice of the angel calling and saying: Arise, ye dead, and come to judgement. Let us keep watch and pray, for we know not the day or the hour when the Lord will come.

Editorial Conventions

The nomenclature of the voice-parts follows the Tudor convention.

The original clef, staff signature, mensuration symbol and first note of each part are shown on the prefatory staves.

Editorial accidentals are placed above the notes concerned and remain operative throughout the bar.

The sign  denotes a ligature.

Text repetition signs in the underlay of the copy text have been expanded editorially in italics.

Notes on the Readings of the Sources

In the notes below, each reference to a bar or group of bars is separated by an oblique stroke. Within these references multiple readings in the same voice are separated by commas and readings in different voices by semicolons. The order within each entry is: 1) bar number(s); 2) voice; 3) source(s) 4) reading of the source(s). For extended references subsequent bar numbers are in brackets. Pitches are in capital letters, preceded by a number where necessary, e.g. ²B = second note B in the bar. Note values are abbreviated in italics, e.g. dot-m = dotted minim. The symbol  denotes an underlay repetition sign.
