(FRÜHLINGSANFANG)

Seymour J. G. Egerton
(1839-1898)

Seymour John Grey “Sim” Egerton, 4th Earl of Wilton (1839-1898) was the son of Thomas Egerton, 2nd Earl of Wilton (1799–1882) and Lady Mary Margaret Stanley, daughter of Edward Smith-Stanley, 12th Earl of Derby. His paternal grandfather was Robert Grosvenor, 1st Marquess of Westminster. He was the owner and namesake of the Lord Wilton violin and an associate of Sir Arthur Sullivan. Sullivan described him as the best amateur musician in England “who struggled manfully against the disadvantages of birth, wealth, and position.” Egerton was the first president and conductor of the “Wandering Minstrels”, an amateur orchestral society. The receipts of their concerts were given to many charities throughout the country. His compositions include a cantata, songs, and part-songs.

O first sweet breath of balmy air,
O first chaste kiss from violet fair;
Fond heart, ah! why this beating?
Dost call to mind the long sweet hours,
Thy youth's bright dreams, her perfumed flowers:
Young love, and lovers' meeting?

O first sweet breath of balmy air,
O first chaste kiss from violet fair;
Fond heart, ah! why this beating?

I know not why, there comes a breeze,
A gentle breath through budding trees,
From yonder valley sleeping,
That wakes my heart to hope and prayer,
That soothes my woe, my anxious care,
And stays my hopeless weeping.

Franz Alfred Muth (1839-1890)
English version: Mrs. Cary-Elwes, née Alice Geraldine Ward (1844–1907)
